

Rabbi Carl Wolkin

Dear Friends,

I write to you to again add my personal support and ask yours for the Yom HaShoah Yellow Candle Project undertaken by our congregation's Culture Committee and Men's Club through the National Federation of Jewish Men's Clubs.

The time has come for the commemoration of the Holocaust to be observed in a formal and annual fashion both in the Jewish community and in the home. The 27th of Nissan was long ago established as a day for this purpose and over the last two decades this day has taken on increasing importance for the Jewish people. This is as it should be.

This year our community will hold a Yom HaShoah memorial service at B'nai Jehoshua Beth Elohim, 901 N. Milwaukee Avenue, Glenview, on Monday evening, April 15, at 8:00 P.M. In addition, please join us for Sunday morning breakfast to hear our holocaust guest speakers Lisa and Aron Derman. The candle is a fitting and beautiful way to remember the 6 million in each of our homes. Please light the candle and by so doing take the time to remember. and come join us for our Yom Hashoah study weekend.

Sincerely,

Rabbi Carl Wolkin
